

Davis Applied Technology College: A Utah College of Applied Technology Campus Campus Core Services Policy and Procedure

Effective Date: 21 November 2008

Administrative Policy

Employee Input Team Approval: 8 October 2008

Campus President's Council Approval: 17 November 2008

1. Purpose

The Davis Applied Technology College: a Utah College of Applied Technology Campus (College Campus) is open nine days each year in which students are not present. During these non-teaching days, the majority of employee activities are for faculty and staff preparation and development. The remainder of the time is for the institution's Opening Institute and End-of-Year Strategic and Awards Ceremony activities. The critical issue during these times is to provide core services to our customers, while still providing training, in-service and team building for our faculty and staff.

2. Policy

The Institution must always provide core services and meet customer expectations during non-teaching days. The following areas represent critical services which will be provided each day, other than when the College Campus is closed for weekends, scheduled holidays, or in the event of an emergency situation:

STUDENT SERVICES

Department will be open for business offering the following services: enrollment, testing, guidance and scheduling, and cashiering functions.

BOOKSTORE SERVICES

Bookstore will be open and provide customer services including cashier and sales returns.

FACILITIES/CUSTODIAL/SECURITY

Buildings are open with selected entries to not compromise security. There is to be sufficient custodial and security staff to cover all necessary facility requirements.

IT/BUSINESS OFFICE

Computer support functions and programming services must be available.

TRAINING DIVISION

Training Division representative(s) shall be available to consult with all other personnel on customer questions.

3. Procedures

Minimum Coverage – A basic and minimum number of core personnel will be required to assure consistent customer service on each day the institution is open, in order to fulfill the expectations and needs of our customers. Whenever practicable, part-time hourly employees may be assigned to fulfill these responsibilities and to allow maximum participation in events to salaried and full-time staff. A rotation of hourly employees to cover these services is acceptable.
